Marr Mooditj Training

Fees and Charges

- All Marr Mooditj qualifications are subsidised by the WA Department of Training and Workforce Development (DTWD) for the target group of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people.
- If you are not a member of this target group you will be required to pay the full service fee for the qualification in which you seek to enrol. This information is provided in a separate Fees Schedule.
- All students must be charged a fee for subsidised courses. Fees are calculated according to the rules and charges by the WA Department of Training and Workforce Development.
- Fees are indicative (see previous page). This means that you will be charged the full qualification fee, if the course you are doing is split over more than one year the final full fee may change. Any changes will only be applied to units of the qualification delivered in the second and subsequent years.

For further information and/or clarification on any of the above please contact Marr Mooditj Training.

Concession and non-concession

You are eligible for concession rates if:

- you have Pension Concession Card;
- you have a Health Care Card;
- receive Abstudy; or
- receive Youth Allowance.

If you are not eligible for a concession you will have to pay the non-concession rate detailed on page 1.

Diploma level qualifications are not eligible for concession rates (as per WA Department of Training and Workforce Development) except for the HLT54115 Diploma of Nursing, which has been added to courses targeted for fee relief effective 1 July 2020.

Payment Options

No fees are paid in advance to Marr Mooditj Training.

On enrolment students will take up one of the following payment options:

- Pay by cash or direct debit as you progress with your studies;
- Centrepay deduction using Centrelink direct debit (This is a payment option to be deducted from your Centrelink payment with your written consent).
- VET Student Loans

Marr Mooditj Training has a refunds policy in place for students. Please refer to the Student Handbook for more detail.

VET Student Loans

VET student loans are available for approved courses at Diploma level only, subject to eligibility. Please note that this is a loan from the Commonwealth and as such you will have a personal debt that is repayable to the Commonwealth. This may reduce future borrowing capacity and you may wish to seek independent financial advice before applying for this loan.

Marr Mooditj Training can provide you with information regarding the eligibility criteria at your request or you can access this website: <https://www.dese.gov.au/vet-student-loans>

Please note: VET student loans are only available for the Diploma courses indicated on page 1.
